

UL Authorized Label Suppliers Program

An Underwriters Laboratories Authorized Label Supplier since 2003

The Print Source, Inc. is a UL Authorized Label Supplier. Through its Printer Agreement, we are approved to print any of the Underwriters Laboratories Inc., (UL) logos referred to as "The Mark." The Mark can be printed on any pressure sensitive label material as long as it complies with your UL material requirements and the design layout has been reviewed and approved by UL. The Print Source has passed stringent testing in order to become recognized as an approved source by Underwriters Laboratories Inc.

A UL Recognized Label is any label bearing Safety Related Information such as warnings, cautionary markings, installation instructions or electrical ratings. These labels are considered by UL to be "components" of the devices to which they are affixed. Because safety information should be permanently available to the user, these labels must meet performance requirements designed to evaluate significant label characteristics such as durability and legibility, resistance to defacement and adhesion to the surface of the product.

We are happy to prepare a quotation for the exact label you specify. We will also offer suggestions to develop the most useful label at the best value. We can provide samples of similar labels we've produced or are able to supply samples of the quoted material for testing.
